Detailed Financial Information

First year student requirements*

All first-year program students who are not granted a full scholarship and require Tyndale to apply for a student visa on their behalf are required to pay for all their first year's expenses by 1 June before the visa application will be completed. Depending on your situation this amount would range from €3300 - €10,000 (please see the tables below). Admissions will notify the prospective student of the exact amount once the student confirms whether he/she will live off campus or on campus. All first-year program students granted a full scholarship will be required to pay for their visa and contribute €500 to their education; both are due on orientation day.

Residence permit (for studying)

For all non-EU students there is a one-time expense for a residence permit. This is to be paid in full on the first day of orientation. The current fee (2025) is €243.00 [*verblijfsvergunning met MVV]. Should a prospective student commit to coming to Tyndale, but then choose not to come, that person will be responsible for the payment of fees that Tyndale has incurred on his or her behalf regarding the visa process. If for any reason a student needs to lengthen their original visa, he or she will be responsible for the cost of that lengthening.

Tuition

Students have two options when enrolling in classes. They can either take a class for credit at €55/ECTS or as an audit at €25/ECTS. Classes are assigned values of credit in the European Credit Transfer System (ECTS) based on the amount of work required for the class. An average full-time student would take 20 ECTS per trimester, therefore, yearly tuition would be €3300.

Tuition for all non-program students is due by the first day of class. All registered program students (MDiv, MET, CTS) may create payment plans for each trimester, but must be at a zero balance at the end of those terms. The exception would be first-year program students as noted above*.

A student who officially withdraws from a class before the end of the second week of class will receive a complete refund. A student who withdraws between the second and the end of the fourth week of classes may receive a 70% refund of tuition paid for that trimester. No refund will be given if a student withdraws after the fourth week.

Room and Board

The dormitory is available for all single students. Rooms are occupied by 2 to 3 people and often share a bathroom with another suite. The cost is €450/month and includes 19 meals/week. Married students without children may inquire about the availability of space in the few rooms that have private bathrooms, but that option is very limited. Additional details on the costs of dorm use can be found in the Community Life Handbook, section 12.

Miscellaneous Fees

- Residence Permits (Visas) – (the amount is set by Dutch government)
- Graduation Fee (€50)
- Continuation Fee - remaining in a program, but not registering for classes for a year (€55/year)
- Student Association Fee (€35/year)
- MET Thesis Binding Fee (€50 for the library copy and an additional €50 for each copy the student wants bound)
- Lost Room Keys (€50 per key, €10 per fob)
- Printing and Copying using the Tyndale printer (€0.05/page B&W, €0.10/page color)

Textbooks

The average price per year for textbooks for full-time study is €700.
